The new year will not begin for baseball fans until next year.

So far the crop of spring poets does not seem excessively large.

Some men have a steady stream of callers on the first of the month.

Correct this sentence: "I have a wonderful new dress, but I can't go out tonight."

The best way to pay anything is with the cash. How does your subscription account stand?

Most men get behind in their work by putting off things that they have time to do.

There are a few pessimists in Bay St. Louis but few people will agree in naming them.

Our extra slice of pie for this week is awarded the loser, who said "I ought to have lost."

Advertising never gets beyond the experimental stage with some merchants.

The best laid plans in the world will not produce dollars unless there is execution behind them.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to believe every hard luck story that was passed to him?

Our idea of a news item is to the effect that two men were recently legally executed in Chicago.

A good many people go to a lawyer and ask: "What does this paper mean?" after they have signed it.

About the only claim missed by some of our bragging American cities is "the world's largest volcano."

Correct this sentence: "Mr. Editor, I just take your paper to help you live; I have no time to read it."

Most people will pay their debts, especially if the sheriff is not on their trails and they can't dispose of their property.

Europe's severe cold wave is one of the catastrophes that has not been blamed on the United States of America.

Farmers are now getting ready to put seed into the ground in the hopes of getting enough back to pay their bills this fall.

If good intentions did anything else beside pave the well known road most of the debts in the world would be paid tomorrow.

Having a weak heart we have long since ceased to speculate about the final outcome that the ladies will wear.

You can't get around the argument that keeping money at home tends to create mutual prosperity in Bay St. Louis.

We are willing to do almost anything for the sake of good health, but when it comes to eating spinach we buck, snort and balk.

We can't please everybody in Bay St. Louis but The Sea Coast Echo hopes to be able to convince the public that it serves the community.

There are a few newspaper editors who spend the winter in Florida or California. One guess will tell you where most of them spend their time.

Most peddlers are protected by the Interstate Commerce law. They come in and get Bay St. Louis' money and they go and spend it somewhere else.

If you kill one fly now, you do away with thousands later on; if you kill one mosquito, the experts say, you do away with millions later on. It's a pity somebody didn't kill one fly and one mosquito about a generation ago and do away with them altogether.

LET'S START NOW.

It would seem useless to urge the inhabitants of Bay St. Louis to take steps to beautify their homes, gardens and premises generally. Such advice ought to be unnecessary. In individual cases, it probably is, but in community undertakings, where the concerted efforts of many people is necessary to produce apparent results, it might not be a bad idea to summon all progressive residents to the annual task it invites in the spring. Let's make Bay St. Louis beautiful.

CONGRATULATIONS

Judge J. A. Breath, secretary of the Peoples Building & Loan Association, was selected to the trust which he has served the well-known institution for thirty-five years, and the occasion is one of double congratulations to him and the association he has served so well over so long a period.

On June of this year the Judge will have served in his present capacity thirty-five years, a most valuable record, and the association has not only prospered but constantly expanded.

The fiscal year just ended has, according to the annual statement, and that is authentic, shown this to have been the best year in the association's history, by comparison, and its volume business over a period of years has increased from a total statement of $18,000, to $42,000 a few years later, and today to a point nearing the $70,000 mark.

THE STORY OF FOUR BROTHERS

Once, four brothers lived in a town about the size of Bay St. Louis. One was a grocer, one a merchant, one a hardware dealer and the other a farmer. Thinking matters over they said: "Let us stick together always, buying from each other at every opportunity, and never spending our money with other people unless we cannot avoid doing so."

As the years went by the four brothers stuck to that resolution. The result was that when one of the brothers made a bit of money all of them felt it pass through their hands. In time, it went around and around the circle. Eventually, the four brothers got rich, and because they stuck to their resolve, they stayed rich.

Luckily, the four brothers' children and wives didn't get the idea that they had to shop out of their home town to get anything. They never got the idea that something away from home was always better than what they had at hand. They too, cheerfully accepted the principle of sticking together.

Bay St. Louis has a number of business men, who are brothers so far as their businesses go. If they will remember the story of the four brothers, and teach it to their children and their wives, the money that comes into Bay St. Louis will stay here, to make all of us prosperous. We will have a chance to pass it around and make it work for Bay St. Louis.

CAL AND PAT ARE BUDDIES.

It has been said Senator Pat Harrison is loved for the friends he has and the enemies he makes. This is quite a tribute—and Pat deserves it all.

However, there is one foe he has outfoed, and since circumstances alter cases, the circumstances of ex-President Coolidge stepped down from his position and as head of the opposing party, we are told both Calvin and Pat smoked cigars at the White House last Friday and agreed to let bygones be bygones.

In a happy mood on the eve of his retirement, the president let the host of republican office holders calling to say goodbye wait while he and his democratic foe buried the foe and looked to the future as friends.

The Mississippi democrat asked the president to come down to Mississippi one of these days and fish and hunt.

Mr. Coolidge indicated he wished to do that. The president recalled that he had visited every state in the union except three—Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas—and that he wanted to see them.

"I just called to tell the president, that while the republican hosts are looking ahead to Mr. Hoover and his administration that I as a democrat wanted to call and say goodbye to him," said the sharpshooter of the Senate. "I regard Mr. Coolidge as my friend. He has always been very courteous to me and I like him."

HOOVER OPPOSES OFFICE-SELLING.

The nation, as a whole, has little toleration for corrupt politics. The charges of corruption involving the sale of federal offices in the southern states, have been heard so long that the public is apt to attach very little importance to them.

However, there is one foe he has outfoed, and since Senator Brookhart, has convinced many good citizens that such charges have substantial foundations, and that such tactics should cease. President Hoover has definitely aligned himself against this barter of offices and no one believes that he will tolerate such practices during his term of office.

Senator Brookhart, after a conference with the chief executive announced that "the old scheme of parcelling out jobs is gone forever under the Hoover administration," and that, while he did not like to convict people while they were yet on trial, he was convinced from his investigation that "there appears to be little doubt that offices have been sold right and left in our own state of Mississippi, South Carolina and Georgia."

STOPS FAKE ADVERTISING

The Sea Coast Echo hastens to commend the Federal Trade Commission for its work in protecting the public against advertising frauds. Recently it was announced that "English broadcloths" mustn't be made of native cotton, and stopped an American manufacturer from labeling an immense amount of cotton fabric made in American mills, as "imported English broadcloth."

The commission is right. It hit the mark again when it took up the case of a New York mail order house, which advertised an "overcoat free with every suit." Investigation showed that the selling price of the suit covered both garments, and the so called "free" was a fraud.

Good business men, who believe in advertising, will cheerfully uphold such action, as will reputable newspaper publishers.

THE POPULAR VOTE

More than thirty-six million Americans voted in the 7928 presidential election, according to an official tabulation made by Clerk of the House Page, based on official state reports.

Ninety-nine per cent, of the vote cast, was divided between Hoover and Smith, the remainder being scattered. The popular vote for each candidate was: Hoover, Republican, 21,392,190; Smith, Democrat, 15,016,443; Foster, Workers, 48,770; Thomas, Socialist, 267,420; Reynolds, Socialist-Labor, 21,603; Varney, Prohibition, 20,106; Webb, Farmer-Labor, 6,390; total, 36,879,414.

REAL TRIAL MARRIAGES

If a citizen comes out in favor of trial marriages the friends of the institution of matrimony are shocked, but few of them pay much attention to the easy divorces which enable many couples to carry through the trial marriage idea.

The other day a young woman, once divorced, married a young man twice divorced, saying, "It's perfectly silly, this divorce business. We ought to know what marriage is all about. And we ought to be able to make this one last." Her reasoning is not correct. Experiencing in divorcing one's husband or wife has nothing to do with maintaining a matrimonial relationship.

BYRD CLAIMS LAND FOR U. S.

Commander Byrd's discovery of unknown land in the Antarctic region raises the query, whether the United States becomes the possessor of the territory through the right of discovery. The great explorer, upon locating the vast expanse, promptly claimed it for his country, but whether the rest of the world will recognize such a title is the question.

International law has been settled as to the contention, that any land discovered by a citizen of the United States may be claimed as such by the United States.

A Bank for Brokers
No Arsenic, Please, F. R.
Usury Unnecessary.
Invest, Do Not Gamble.

In response to warnings from the Federal Reserve Bank, which on Friday, $25,000,000 of call loans. The idea was to "discourage speculation." That speculation keeps big banks and their gigantic profits alive but that is another story.

When loans were called the rate moved from 6 to 9 per cent. Banks calling loans sacrificed 6 per cent, on $25,000,000 and made an additional 3 per cent on about four billions.

Even a child on the farm could understand that systematic usury must be harmful. Even as base a thing as a speculator, buying American securities, should not be robbed too systematically.

It is probable that investigation of the Federal Reserve Bank, and its accidental or intentional promotion of bank profits, through usury, will follow the latest Federal Reserve action, responsible for a loss, widely scattered, of three or four billions in a few hours.

Why do not Stock Exchange men protect themselves and their customers from financial tyranny. They could establish a great bank, especially for their own purposes. Compelling brokers to make call loans at that bank, on conservative margins of security, at a fair interest rate, and dividing profits among stock exchange members, they might do something that the Federal Reserve evidently cannot do.

Controlling a monopoly of call loans, they could sell $1,000,000,000 worth of stock in an hour.

If a father to cure his children of overeating put arsenic in their food, you would say "Something wrong with that father."

When a paternal Federal Reserve Board, making itself the national government to cure what it considers over-speculation, ruins thousands of investors by forcing usurious interest rates, you say "Something wrong with that Federal Reserve Board."

The Board is unnecessarily excited about four or five billion dollars of brokers' loans.

Earned financiers should realize that there is money in this country outside of banks' control.

Mr. Ecker, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has shown that the income of American wage earners is sixty billion dollars a year.

And they spend fifteen billions less than they earn.

Those fifteen billions are three times the total of brokers' loans. A nation that has every year fifteen billions of spending money might borrow a third of its excess annual wealth for investment, or even for speculation without making criminal usury necessary.

Wall Street went to work last week convinced that the world had not quite come to an end, and even a benevolent regulating Federal Reserve might be endured.

Some for whom this is the beginning of the Spring lamb season, the unhappy wiped-out minority that tried the "faw down, go broke" experience, will know better next time. Others will know better later.

Invest within your means, in America, and you get rich. Gamble here or anywhere, and gambling gets you.

Lady De Bath died recently at Monte Carlo, in her seventy-seventh year. As Mrs. Langtry, the Jersey Lily, she was known wherever English is spoken. Her reputation was due largely to her marvelous complexion, pink and rosy, natural colors. Such complexions have gone out. Even little girls are daubed and plastered.

Up above, the Jersey Lily has doubtless renewed acquaintance with Albert Edward, who admired her when he was Prince of Wales. Will he look natural, fitting about with white wings and a harp? Probably not. And how painful it must be for a sovereign or a famous beauty to be just like everybody else. Perhaps ranking even below Moody and Shankey.

NEW YORK TODAY

There is an unadvised something about New York's leading after-theatre gathering places that brings an entirely different set from those who like to dine and dance. It is that group that wants to be where the most important talks are going on. One out of every three or so in a night club or hotel grill would confess if they cared to tell the truth, that it was to "see people" or "be seen" that took them there. The place makes for assembling the most celebrities always has the most advance reservations.

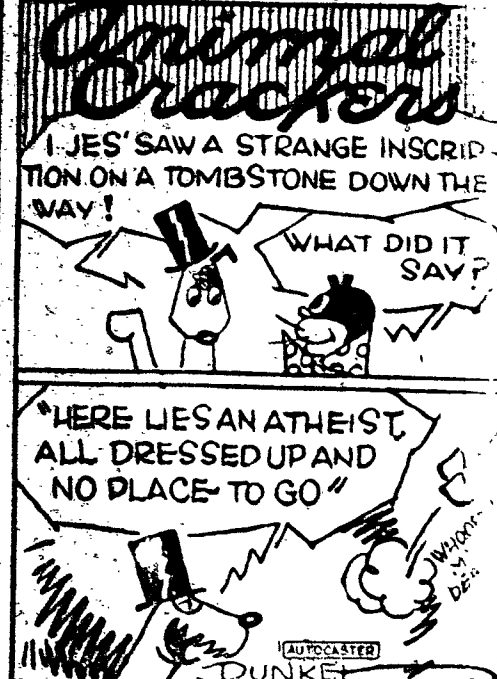

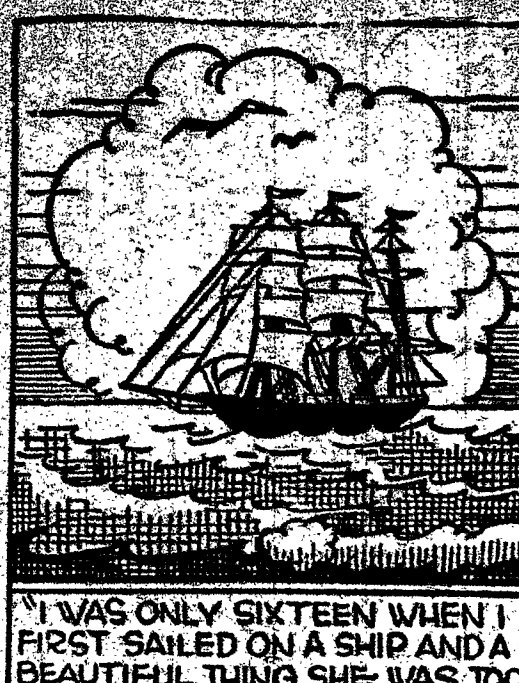

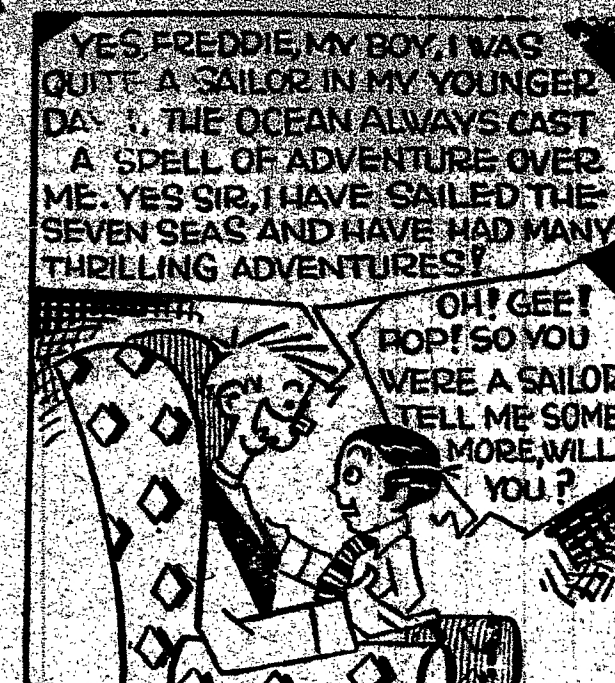

In one of the colorful grills along Broadway the other night I saw a fellow point out half a dozen noted Broadwayites to his fair companion and it was plainly seen he had taken her there for the reason above. They didn't eat and they didn't dance. They paid their cover charge and left a good-sized tip for the waiter who hadn't been called upon to do a thing, but they went away quite charmed. They had seen at least half a dozen celebrities.

Henry Ford had lunch in the Rookery last night. Babe Ruth has been seen there as well as other professional people and the other evening when I was informed by a waiter that I was seated at the table Babe Ruth usually takes, I confess to having thrilled to a feeling that bordered so closely to pure and simple ego that I actually felt a little guilty.

There is a new pink drink served in the brilliant night places that looks like something with a kick, but which in reality is only a mixture of fruit juices in a jaunty little cocktail glass. I took the first sip of mine, I coughed furiously and annoyed almost to distraction the little lady who was trying to sing a ballad in the center of the dance floor. You cannot make sour old duffers like sweet drinks.

Spots in Greenwich Village will possess the charm of New York of 150 years ago. Slant loof garret house with old fashioned oil lamps outside their doors, still bearing iron knockers, and within open fireplaces. The scenes always recall to me those stories of the "Liberty Boys of '76" in which such houses were always pictured on the highly colored covers.

New York this summer will do its public dining largely on the roof or in the cellar—that is there will be more and more roof gardens and subterranean eating places than ever before. New York is comparatively free from rainy summers—and the roof gardens enjoy unhampered patronage. But there are those who prefer the cool grills where, a passing thunder shower means only to enjoy yourself another hour or so.

Sometimes I wonder if there is a New Yorker who actually eats at home, other than the breakfast rolls and coffee. And could the average young and modern New York housewife make a apple pie without checking over the cook book? I suppose so; but I haven't discovered anything like it being done of late—not in my sphere.

ECHOES OF FUN.

"Have you read 'Finis'?"
"No, what is it?"
"Oh, it's the last word in books."

Pastor: "So God sent you two more little brothers, Dolly?"
Dolly: "Yes, and He knows where the money's coming from to keep them." I heard Daddy say so.

He: "May I occupy part of your hammock tonight?"
She (sweetly): "You may occupy all of it, Pete and I are going to a dance."

The meanest man in the world is the warden who put a tack in the electric chair.

"Your dealer has hired me to collect this bill from you."
"You are to be congratulated on obtaining a permanent position."

Bashful He: "I suppose I'm the worst dancer on the floor tonight."
Candid She: (Silence)
B. He: "I said I suppose I'm the worst dancer on the floor tonight."
Candid She: "I heard you; I was just trying to think."

There are two kinds of disappointing men: those who take "no" for an answer, and those whom women marry.

Colored Rookie: "I'd like to have a new pair of shoes, sir."
Sergeant: "Are your shoes worn out?"

Rookie: "Worn out! Man, the bottom of my shoes are so thin, I can step on a dime and tell whether it's heads or tails."

HIGHER PRICES FOR POULTRY BUT LOWER FOR EGGS IN 1929

Higher prices may be expected for poultry during the first half of the

The situation is favorable to producers of poultry because of the relatively smaller stocks on farms, smaller cold storage holdings and larger supplies of feed. Number of hens and pullets of laying age on farms January 1, 1929, were somewhat less than a year earlier, but apparently very close to the numbers at the beginning of 1927, according to reports for 20,000 farm flocks of less than 400 layers. The number of chickens raised 1928 was reported to be

Farm prices for eggs during 1928 were higher than during 1927. The favorable margin in 1928 gradually increased from about one cent per dozen in January to six cents in June and then it gradually decreased, until in October, prices were slightly lower than in 1927, and remained lower the rest of the year.

Quality continues to be a factor of growing importance in the egg situation. Producers who make no special effort to market high quality eggs in the fall and winter are likely to find that egg production at that season is becoming less profitable, compared with previous years. Information from the specialized egg-producing sections in the west indicate increased hatching this spring.

favorable prices for both the egg and dressed poultry are indicated during the first half of the year 1929 at least, because of smaller stocks of poultry farms, and the relatively large storage stocks. Poultry prices for the past several years have held up much better than have egg prices. If this relationship continues, some shifting toward more emphasis on the meat producing side of poultry farming may be expected.

Miss Ruzzie Denson of Gulfport and Fred S. McCants of Bogalusa were married in Bay St. Louis Saturday, February 16, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Clark, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. The young couple was accompanied by the mother of each. Mrs. McCants having stopped over en route from Bogalusa to her new home in Waterford, N. C., for the wedding. The bride was a member of the senior class at the Gulfport high school. Mrs. McCants is connected with the New Orleans Corrugated Box Factory. Both are well known on the Coast.

MACCABEES MEETING PROGRAM

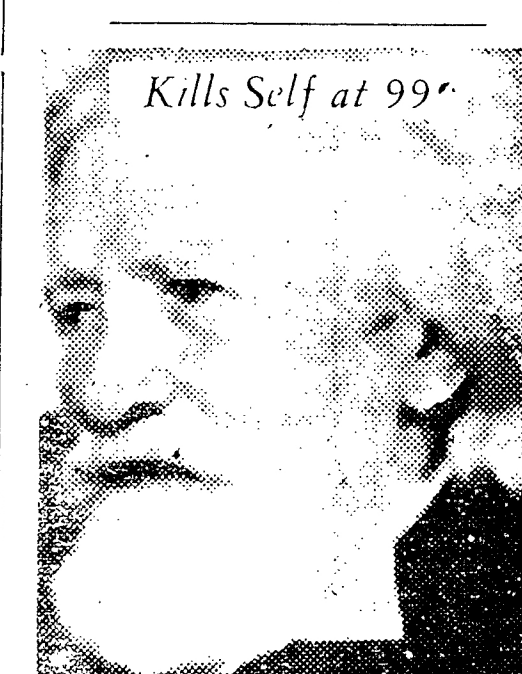

Quadrinial State Meet to
Be Held in Bay St. Louis
May 2 and 3

F. B. Pittman of the Flat Top community was appointed county agent under the A. & M. College extension department Monday, the appointment coming from the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county through the nomination of J. Ed Ruff, district agent. Mr. Pittman will assume his duties at once.

The new agent is well known in this county, having held a similar position here some six years ago, and he has many warm personal friends in the county who are pleased to have him back on this job of aiding the farmers of the county to obtain the best results from their soil through judicious information from an expert.

Since giving up farm agent work Mr. Pittman has been actively engaged in farming in the Flat Top community.

The appointment of the new agent comes as a result of the decision two months ago of the board to add this office and at the February board meeting the board advised Mr. Ruff to have a man ready for appointment at the March meeting.

Kills Self at 99

Dr. Edwin P. T. O. Obaldstein, 99-year old veteran of the Crimean War, committed suicide at Asbury.

A tentative program for the quadrinial state meeting of Maccabees of Mississippi which will be held in Bay St. Louis May 2 and 3, has been arranged by D. V. Cochran of Gulfport, state manager of the Maccabees and approved by the Bay St. Louis Tent which is to be in host to the delegates. The local entertainment committee includes Fred Fayard, P. J. Boudin and Roger Heitzmann, who are cooperating with Mr. Cochran.

The first day of the convention will be devoted to business. At night here will be held a demonstration initiation of a class of women and a class of men and women Maccabees. The Bay St. Louis Tent and Gulfport Tent will cooperate in presenting the initiation for the men's class. The Magnolia Hivve of Gulfport will handle the initiation for the women.

The second day of the convention Friday, will open with a short business session when election of officers will be held. After the final business session Friday morning the local lodge will entertain, with a boat ride and dinner on the water. In the late afternoon an initiation of the juniors will be held, the Port Court of Gulfport, presenting the work.

The banquet for Maccabees, their families and friends will be held at the Hotel Weston Friday night and a dance will follow.

A large delegation from all parts of the state is expected to attend the convention and a representative of the supreme lodge will be present.

Fire Destroys Bungalow
Early Monday Morning

Fire destroyed a bungalow on Leonhard avenue about 2 o'clock on Monday morning. The house belonged to Mrs. D. H. Boyle of the Tulane Hotel. At the time of the fire the house was unoccupied. The owner had already rented the house furnished to some tenants who were away for a visit and were to occupy it upon their return. The house which was seventh from the Beach Boulevard was built about three years ago. The definite origin of the fire is not known, it being assumed, it was said, that the lightning which was quite heavy at the time of the fire having caused the fire. Neighbors saw the flames and turned in the alarm. The department responded but the house was too far gone to be saved.

It is understood that the owner had $1700 insurance on the house and furnishings but this would not cover the damage, the loss above the insurance being estimated at $1000.

RE-RATING BAY CITY IN FEW DAYS

Mayor Traub Advised Work of Inspection for Cheaper Insurance Rates Soon

It will be remembered through the instrumentality of Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., and Commissioners Sylvan J. Ladner and F. H. Egloff, co-operating with the local fire companies and other civic factors of the city, a tangible effort was exerted for cheaper insurance rates for the city of Bay St. Louis.

The matter was taken up with the Mississippi State Rating Bureau at Jackson. Accordingly representatives visited the city and the situation presently gone over extensively as well as minutely. The shortcomings responsible for the present high rate was pointed out and a remedy given. Every requirement for better rating including purchase of new fire engine, laying of larger and more water mains, more water pressure in pipes and water tank has been met and the city has been waiting for the official O. K. from Jackson which seemed to have been held up for some unaccountable reason.

Mayor Traub recently wrote letters of inquiry and to his last one the following definite letter received in reply, which tells the final inspection will be made within the next few days, which, to say the least, will be received by local property owners as good news. The letter is signed by Lloyd D. Wheeler and quote in part:

"We are indebted to you for your good letter of the 28th ulto and wish to take advantage of this opportunity to thank you for the many courtesies you have extended our engineers on their several visits to your good city. As to the re-rating of Bay St. Louis, we are making every effort to undertake this work at the earliest possible moment. Our Mr. Julian Carroll has been definitely assigned as soon as he completes work he now has in hand. We expect him to be in Bay St. Louis within the next week or ten days and have requested him to call upon you upon his arrival there."

—By an advertisement in The Sea Coast Echo the advertiser talks to practically everybody in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Logtown, Kilm, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Nicholson and suburbs of Piquayune, Perkinson and Pass Christian. An ad in The Echo does more and costs less. 4000 copies printed this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plaque and Mr. W. H. McClellan of New Orleans were guests at the Hotel Weston for the week-end, and motored Sunday to Pine Hills, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gelpi of New Orleans, visiting Mrs. Gelpi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Burg, of Booklet avenue, where they spent the day. Mr. McClellan was king of the New Orleans Carnival recently.

—Not to precipitate a campaign just now in these times of peace, the fact remains nevertheless the race for sheriff of Hancock county is beginning to loom up in the horizon in no undiminished shape. To our knowledge there are already five avowed candidates from the city of Bay St. Louis proper, and possibly others from the urban section of Hancock. The slogan is: "If it's worth having, it's worth going after."

—The Echo has been requested to call the attention of parties interested in the quilt being made by local King's Daughters organization, that of the sixty-odd pieces recently given out to be embroidered and worked otherwise, only about seven have been returned. The time limit is Monday and all returns should be made to Mrs. Kenneth Pepperdene, who has the matter in charge. Attention is respectfully urged.

—A message received in this city during the week conveys the sad intelligence of the death of James B. Garrison, which occurred at Muskogee, Oklahoma, on the morning of March 3rd, survived by his wife and family. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Blau and Mrs. A. R. Cuevas, of Bay St. Louis, his wife a Miss Escobal before her marriage. Mr. Garrison at one time was a resident of this city.

—Mrs. H. G. Stone of Kingsport, Tenn., who, accompanied by her interesting children, has been the house-guest of her sister, Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, and family, on North Beach Boulevard, left Friday morning for New Orleans, where she will spend a day or two visiting friends and relatives, en route to her home in Tennessee. Mrs. Stone visited in Bay St. Louis several weeks and was one of the most feted guests in social circles this winter.

—Mrs. Alfred Harding Jackson, of Hattiesburg, is visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hart, Main street, and will remain on the Coast for an indefinite stay.

—Charles T. Favre, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 54 years, died this Friday morning at 4 o'clock, at his home on Washington street. He was well-known, a member of the M. O. W. under the auspices of which organization the funeral will take place Saturday morning, March 9, at 10 o'clock. Interment at Cedar Rest cemetery.

The Careless Letter Writers

(Editorial in St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

The American public was 8.5 per cent less careless or inaccurate about addressing its mail in 1928 than in 1927. The annual report of Postmaster General Newton shows that 23,649,044 letters went to the dead letter office in 1928.

Of course not all of these letters went astray because of carelessness or illegibility of handwriting. In many cases misdirection of mail is unavoidable because addresses have moved leaving no trace. But letters need not be condemned to hopeless wandering, ending finally in the dead letter office for that reason. If senders will only place a return address on the envelope their mail can be spared the humiliation of such an inglorious death. Indeed the Postal department attributes the improved showing of last year to its campaign to induce the public to give return addresses.

How much carelessness there does exist in the addressing of mail, however, can be appreciated from the fact that many of these dead letters contain money. Cash and currency found in dead letters amounted in 1928 to nearly $100,000, and the nominal value of drafts, money orders and checks contained was well over five millions.

The following gracious letter from Mrs. Fournier, President local King's Daughters, explains itself: Bay St. Louis, Miss., March 6, 1929. Mr. Joseph Mauffray, Pres. Rotary Club, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Mr. Mauffray: I received the nice fat check of $57.00, representing one-half of the net proceeds of the Gulf Park College Glee Club concert.

In the name of the Bay St. Louis Circle of King's Daughters and Sons I wish to thank each and every member of the Rotary Club.

It was a most happy occasion—so neighborly of the Glee Club—and so kind of the Rotary Club to share with the two charitable organizations of the town.

Again let me thank you. Very sincerely yours, SINAGH KITTREDGE FOURNIER, President Bay St. Louis King's Daughters and Sons.

SUBJECT OF CREAMERY IS PROPOSED BEFORE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

night at a tourist camp at Long Beach. He said his company had sold land for development purposes to offer one hundred purchasers; to a class of sturdy and substantial people—not triflers and adventurers, neither speculators but people who were of sturdy stock, frugal and thrifty, typical home seekers willing to work and aiming to establish themselves for all time to come. "These are the type of people we are bringing to your county," he said. "They have entered into the poultry and egg business, and general agricultural pursuits." he continued, "there must be something more immediate and tangible, and this solution would be found in the fact that a number of milch cows would more than fit in, and would give ready cash each week-end for the immediate needs of the family. A creamery would second this pioneering work and stabilize such an effort. In conclusion he subscribed $1000 as a starter to the proposed enterprise.

H. S. Weston, president of the Board of Supervisors and president of the Hancock County Bank, was one of the many prominent and substantial citizens present, and who will realize the value and constant worth of the establishment of a creamery and other industries for this county and particular section.

To Visit Saturday Afternoon.
On suggestion of Mr. Roy it was agreed members of the Chamber of Commerce, other citizens interested in the success of the project and this community, along with members of the board of supervisors and other officials, would leave in a party on this Saturday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock and visit the Catahoula section and meet the new farmers and view the situation in person. Mr. Roy says it will be worth the trip and purpose. President C. C. McDonald and the Chamber members in general approve of the project and O. K. the trip for Saturday. It will be made officially and under the auspices of the organization.

Development of the dairying industry in Hancock county seems a turning point for the county and the hope is expressed this project will not be lost sight of. "It can be depended," said President McDonald of the Chamber of Commerce, "nothing will be allowed to remain undone in the interest of this project. It is time we be up and doing and paving the way not only for the present but for the future as well."
